Specialist Clinic Psychologist

I graduated from Uskudar University, Department of Psychology. During my undergraduate education, I did my practical internships in various hospitals and private clinics. After completing the undergraduate program, I have worked full time as a special education specialist/psychologist in the project “ I am active, I am in the society” for individuals with special needs at Istanbul Gedik University. I provided psychological support to the families of individuals with special needs during the time I worked on the project. I worked to eliminate the problem behaviors of special children in the project. I have given peer trainings and seminars in various schools within the scope of the project. In 2016 , I started my graduate education in Uskudar university Clinical Psychology.

During my master’s education ,I have completed my trainings on family and couple therapy, sexual therapy, divorce therapy, applied behavior analysis for individuals with special needs, individual therapy and cognitive behavioral therapy. I have completed my psychological test training for children/ adolescents/ adult simultaneously. During my university education, I took part in events involving individuals with special need and attended scientific congresses.
