

Hatice MERT

Undergraduate Student at Faculty of Health Sciences, Child Development Department İstanbul Kent University

Hello, I am Hatice Mert. I was born in 1974 at Istanbul/Kadıköy, I am married with four children. After my primary school education, I finished secondary school by continuing from distance education. I completed my high school education by studying at the Open Education School Hikmet Nazif Kurşunoğlu Anatolian Vocational High School in the Department of Child Development and Education. I received pieces of training and certificates from many institutions regarding child development and pre-school education. I started my university education at Istanbul Kent University Faculty of Health Sciences Child Development Department by winning the child development department, which was my only choice. During my university years, I participated in the social responsibility and community service practices carried out by Istanbul Kent University. In this context, I still have been working as a volunteer at AÇEV as an intern trainer in the "Future by Readers" project. I received Pedagogical Formation training from Marmara University Atatürk Faculty of Education between 2019-2020. I have been continuing my university education as a 4th-grade student.
